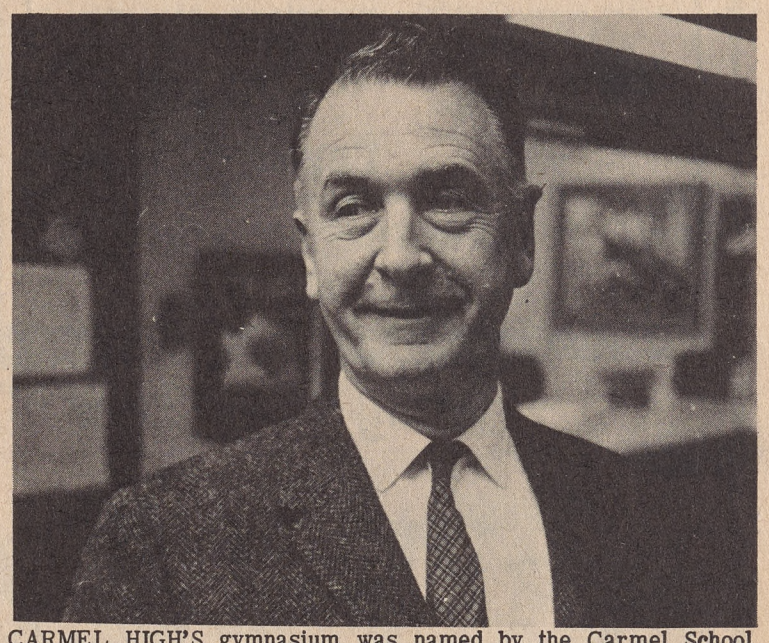
Latest honor to Donald Craig: New gym will bear his name



CARMEL HIGH'S gymnasium was named by the Carmel School District trustees last week after Donald Craig, well-known Spanish teacher and civic leader who is retiring because of illness after 28 years at Carmel High. Staff of the school paper, "The Sandpiper," dedicated their final issue this year to Craig.

Carmel High Loses the Craig Tradition

"If a teacher doesn't like kids, he might as well go back to working in an ivory tower. A teacher has to like the people he's teaching," emphasized Donald Craig, reviewing his 28 years as part of Carmel High School's faculty. Craig is retiring this year.

"A student looks for understanding," continued the well-known Spanish instructor, smiling. "They expect him to know his subject. His personality is the unknown quantity. Understanding, trust, friendliness and patience are the qualities of a good teacher."

Turning to his first years at CHS, Craig, settling in his chair, began: "When I first came, I taught Spanish, English, American history, economics, journalism, and coached football. It was a full and varied schedule.

"Everything was new. Carmel High's traditions were just being set up," he continued, describing the founding in 1940.

"The faculty and the students ate together on long benches outside the art room because there was no cafeteria.

"The high school," he added, "was the hub of youth activity. It as a nice sense of identity.

"Personally," commented the one time football coach, on the size of CHS. "I don't think a high school should have more than 1,000 students if you want to keep the communication between faculty, administration and students, which is so necessary."

He stressed that once a student body climbs to 2,000 students there was too much "red tape" to go through to speak to a counselor or the principal.

Through his years of teaching at Carmel, the world traveler experimented with various subjects, including typing and shorthand. He was also the originator of the Spanish/US history course, initiated in 1955.

The popular Carmelite continued that the class depended on volunteers. "The funny thing was," he smiled, "You would expect only the A and B students to try it. But A, B, and C students flocked into it and the C students probably made as great improvement as the A's or B's."

In explaining the changes and the "innovations" that presently plague the teaching profession, the teacher used the allegory of the number of ways to write a novel. He said that someone had once made a list of all the possible plots and had only come up with thirty-five.

"The same is true in teaching. There are only a certain number of ways of instructing people, of drawing people out and opening new vistas. Some of these 'new teaching innovations' are exactly what I used when I was student teaching in 1935. Every five years the Holy Grail of teaching is discovered and five years later it has changed again and something new is tried."

Summing up his ideas on teaching at CHS, he turned to the responsibilities of a high school in regard to its students. "The school has an obligation to each student, to let him investigate as far as his interest expands, regardless of class size or class load.

"You need 15 (by Board policy) to make a class. In a specific area, math, language, science, etc., if there aren't enough to make a class, the school has the obligation to have it anyway.

Future plans will assuredly keep Donald Craig busy. At present he is working on having his book, "Letters from California," published.

To honor Donald Craig, the Jaycees of the Monterey Peninsula, in accordance have founded a perpetual plaque and $1000 scholarship. Each year it will be given to a male senior who has shown outstanding ability in athletics, school scholarship and activities

White Oak performers come home to start summer season

Concluding a nine-month touring program throughout the State, the White Oaks Theatre company returned to Carmel Valley this week

The company will now swing into rehearsal for the 10th annual summer musical season which will run July 25 through September 1. The bill of fare will consist of three musicals to be performed in repertory; THE AMOROUS FLEA, a bawdy, bright musical comedy, THE ELECTRIC MUSIC HALL, an original satirical revue, and THE BAD CHILDREN, a switch on the Hansel and Gretel legend, which will be presented as a special Sunday matinee for the children.

Since October, the company has performed the length and breadth of California, bringing live theatre to 65,000 children, who, in many instances had never seen a play before. Much of this work was in conjunction with the Federal Government's Title III and Title I programs, which distribute funds to counties having a preponderance of disadvantaged children.

The White Oaks performances were augmented by personal contact with the performers in individual classroom visits. At present, the theatre company participates in both the Fresno and Merced Title projects, and with increasing demand for performances throughout the State, the group estimates an audience of 100,000 for the Fall 1968 touring season.

Tickets for adult performances will go on sale the first week of July and will be priced at $2.75 for adults, $2.25 for students and the military, and $2.00 for children. Matinee performance tickets, also available at that time will be $1.00 for adults and $.75 for children. Tickets may be reserved at the theatre.

Russell Ranch fire damages building of landmark estate

EFFICIENT WORK by the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Dept. held a blazing fire Saturday night in the garage-servant quarter building on the Charles Russell Ranch to an estimated $12,000 damage. Fire Chief Chip Collins, left, with firemen Bill Parham points to the upstairs apartment where the fire blazed through the roof. A walkway separates the burned building from the mansion shown just beyond, which was saved from damage by the firemen. Flames, bursting through the roof of the unoccupied building, were discovered by an employee walking near the house. Chief Collins suspects the fire may have started from wiring. Firemen had to remove the hot, hand-made roof tiles to get at the fire. They also rolled out an old Lincoln Continental, about a 1930 model, in mint condition, and several other vehicles.

County PlanCom studies details of Hidden Hills N. development

A variety of details to be considered in the 1,200-acre Hidden Hills North development of Edward Hogan were presented to the County Planning Commission last week in a report prepared by a committee.

Hogan and his attorney, Donald G. Hubbard, complained that a number of new conditions were included, such as 75-foot setback for buildings from a proposed skyline road.

Although general approval of the plan was given in May, Commissioner Keith Evans pointed out that details are still to be worked out.

The development will be studied again at the July 10 meeting

Autograph affair

Presentation and autographing of the new book, "Waiting for a Ripple," by Jeffrey S. R. Barter, illustrated by Marlinde Von Ruhs, will be held at Sunset Center, Carmel, Sunday June 23, at 2 p. m.

Word of warning

With fire danger high,-- Fire Chief Chip Collins emphasized that it is the responsibility of property owners to clean up and cut down weeds on vacant lots, to reduce hazards. If not done voluntarily, he has the authority to order the work done by the county, with the cost to be added to tax bills.

Little League leader Sal Ocampo a man of distinction—a real native!

By Frank Craig

Sal Ocampo, manager of the Volunteers Little League team, is a man with the rare distinction of being a native of the Monterey Peninsula.

He attended Bay View Grammar School and then went to Monterey High School.

SAL OCAMPO

In 1950, Sal joined the U.S. Navy, where his natural love of sports led him to the boxing team. 1954 saw Sal being discharged from the Navy and moving to Carmel Valley.

Here he concluded a year's courtship of a Carmel Valley girl, Mary Farnham, by joining with her in marriage. This for some reason happened in Pacific Grove.

Since that time he and his wife have acquired three children, Tom who is 13, Cindy, age 11 and Larry, age nine.

In 1960, Tom, along with Sal, became members of the Little League Farm Team, an interest which Larry is now helping to continue.

How Sal has time for this involvement along with being a member of the CV Lions, CVYO, a volunteer fireman, holding a fulltime job as roofer for C.L. Frost Co., along with residing at and being caretakers for Children's House, is one of life's minor mysteries.

From 1960 until 1966, Sal coached Little League teams, three years with the Giants and then three more years with the Volunteers. By 1966 Sal had become manager of his present team, the Volunteers.

This gave him a chance to develop his own ideas. He has a great reluctance to push a boy too fast. Sal is a great believer in pacing the boys according to their abilities. This method has kept Sal's team close to the top

Chances to help

Four encouraging programs have come to our attention recently, which offer answers to those who would like to do a little something on a personal basis to assist those less fortunate.

"Operation Shoe String" got under way this week in Seaside at five church centers. Volunteer workers and donations of supplies are needed for the summer recreation-cultural enrichment program for some 500 youngsters.

Volunteers are wanted to chauffer children on Saturday field trips. Needed are all kinds of art supplies, games and toys, dress-up clothes and scraps of lace, ribbon, ric rac ribbon, lumber and play equipment. A $25 donation would finance a child for the nine-week program.

Further information is available from Rev. H. H. Lusk, who is executive director of Operation Shoe String, 372-2808.

Another program, "Follow Through", is continuing mornings during the summer at Seaside's Noche Buena School, for underprivileged children, and volunteers are most welcome to read to and play with the youngsters. In the afternoon, a volunteer may take a child on an outing to a park or beach or take him home to play with her own children.

More information on this is available from Mrs. Barbara Mearns of Carmel, 624-8090.

"Monterey County Head Start Program", which is for preschoolers from low-income families, also is seeking volunteers and donated supplementary materials, according to the County Office of Education. Head Start classes are conducted mornings at Pacific Grove, Seaside, Alisal and towns down the Salinas Valley.

Volunteer assistance is needed as classroom aides, playground and field trip supervision, transportation of children to health services and kitchen help.

Inquiries about volunteering or donating material may be made to the County Office of Education, 373-2955 or 424-0655.

While these three programs require the day-time assistance of adults and older students, the "Young Adults for Action" program needs the cooperation of business leaders. Director Lee Toler, who organized a "Job Opportunity Center" in Seaside about a year ago, has just been spotlighted by being just presented the first award for creative citizenship by Gov. Reagan.

The privately-financed program seeks to get white business men to give black youths a chance with jobs. While a school custodian for nine years, he often found himself being sought for counsel by Negro students. He slowly became convinced that he had to do something to help these floundering young people, and he sold some local business leaders on the urgent need to finance a non-government employment and counseling service.

What Toler feels is vitally needed is for white businessmen to give Negro young people the chance to learn and prove themselves with jobs. Phone number of his little 2 x 4 office on Broadway in Seaside is 394-8118.

The opportunities are varied for Monterey Peninsula citizens who want the satisfaction of lending a small hand to the less fortunate in this rough world.

PERSPECTIVE

TO THE EDITOR

Editor, The Outlook

This is a letter of despair and wonder. What has happened to us? To America? The very words, the United States of America, conjure up feelings of anguish, guilt, bitterness, and deep shame.

No longer am I proud of being an American, this slow alienation with my country started on a dreadful November day in 1965, and has grown with the tragic folly of the Viet Nam War, and the racial riots; it has mushroomed with the recent assasinations of two of our most able leaders.

Fear, hate, and bitterness have replaced compassion, justice, and courage in this land. How is a country to survive when fear is the basis for its individual and corporate actions?

Will this last tragedy finally make us aware? Let's all take time for introspection and heavy thought, let's start caring again.

It is with regret that this letter must be written at all. I only hope that, if it is read, it will make even one person care enough to shape an effort to be an American, in the true sense of the word.

Sincerely,
Mary Ann Yuma
Robles del Rio

The Rhyming Philosopher

I woke up this morning all cheery and bright
With a feeling of dash and dominion,
Which spirit I hoped to keep clearly in sight
So my doing would match my opinion.

For this is the day, as some preacher once said,
To claim for my own and be glad of it;
But up to the time that I got out of bed
Few minutes were all that I had of it.

The fences need fixing, the roof has a leak,
Bossy's got hiccoughs, Dobbin's got spavin,
The wife is expecting a baby this week,
Which doesn't conclude the trouble we're havin':

Our daughter ran off with a hippy last night,
Son burned his draft card and landed in jail.
They foreclosed our mortgage 'cause money is tight,
The check from the welfare got lost in the mail..

This morning I felt I could lift up the world,
Knowing Love had the power to move it.
I marched into battle with banner unfurled,
But I picked the wrong morning to prove it!

Cachagua road work scheduled

Bruce W. McClain, Road Commissioner, announces that the Monterey County Road Dept. will be improving approximately 1,200 feet of the Cachagua Road in the vicinity of the Miller and Girard ranches on the Cachagua Grade.

Improvements will consist of clearing, grading and reconstruction to eliminate three sharp curves on the Grade.

Work on this project is scheduled to be completed in late July.

Traffic will be subject to 1 hour delays and flagman control during the working hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. on weekdays. Through traffic to Cachagua is advised to use the Jamesburg route to avoid delays.

Rate increase for Del Monte Water Co.

The California Public Utilities Commission has authorized the Rancho Del Monte Water Company, serving some 300 customers in Upper Carmel Valley centered in the Rancho Del Monte subdivision, a rate increase of approximately four thousand dollars a year to offset declining earnings.

The newly authorized rates are effective July 1. The charge for a typical residential monthly consumption of 1,500 cubic feet of water at the new rates will be $7.55, an increase of $1.49, or 24.6 percent over the $6.06 now charged under present rating. The company had sought a 50 percent increase.

The new rate schedule will permit the company to earn a return of about 7 percent on its investment, as against 2 percent under current rates.

The company's present rates have been unchanged since July 21, 1953, almost 15 years.

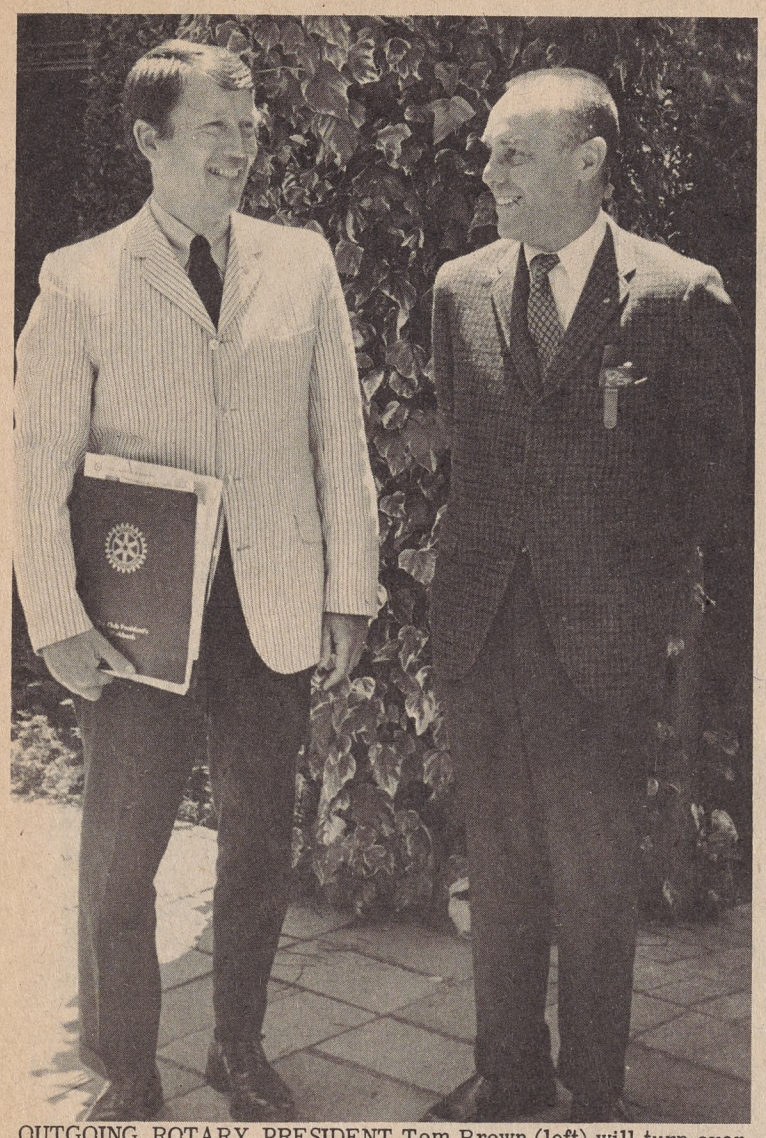
FREE POPCORN to Everyone Attending During our GRAND OPENING



OUTGOING ROTARY PRESIDENT Tom Brown (left) will turn over the reins of the Carmel Club to Bill Cranston (right) on July 1. Cranston will preside over his first meeting on July 3. The Carmel Rotary Club meets each Wednesday at noon at La Playa Hotel.

Carmel 's Rotary Club has provided 18 years of service

The Carmel Rotary Club was established in March of 1950 as a branch of the Monterey club. Corum Jackson was the first president of the Carmel group which now numbers 65 active members.

In addition to the regular members there is a group within the club known as the Roaming Rotarians. During the presidency of Bob Spencer, he observed the need for a Rotarian affiliation outside of the regular members for those persons who had retired and moved to this area or who maintained a resort home in Carmel and another residence elsewhere. At the present time there are 23 persons who are members of this group of "roaming" Rotarians.

Rotary International is a charity-oriented group. The Carmel club stresses help to organizations which have little or no support from other sources. However, they have also been strong supporters of the Community Hospital and are in the midst of a three year project to purchase a room in the new wing which is being added. Over the years, members of the club have contributed substantially to the hospital.

Each year Carmel Rotary provides scholarship pins for outstanding students at Carmel High School and Robert Louis Stevenson School. They have purchased equipment for the Cypress Swim Club, sponsored the Carmel Dodgers in the Babe Ruth League, helped sponsor a Sing Out group, back a Carmel Boy Scout troop and donate a scholarship at MPC to an exchange student.

A branch of Rotary called Inter-Act, involves young men in high school. Through the interest of Stuart Mitchell and Robert Ricklefs such a group has been organized at Robert Louis Stevenson School.

Inter-Act, in conjunction with Carmel Rotary, has provided funds for a school house in a remote part of Costa Rica.

During the past Easter vacation, Ricklefs and some of the RLS students traveled to see the site and present the money through the San Juan Costa Rica Rotary Club.

Carmel Rotary is made up of top business and professional people in the area, according to current president Tom Brown. The group meets each Wednesday at noon at La Playa and adjourns promptly at 1:30 so that members can get back to their offices.

Club service director this past year has been Dr. Toland Doud, Vocational Service Director has been Richard Wilsdon, and Community Service Director has been Rev. Larry Farrell. Allman Cook has been International Service Director.

The Rotary year runs from July 1 through the next June, so officers and directors are about to change. William Cranston, who will replace Tom Brown as president next year, will officiate at his first meeting on July 3. For the past year he has been in charge of the Rotary Foundation which deals with scholarships involving world travel for young men and women.

As a break from the business day, the philanthropic qualities of Rotary have interested many an active man.

OUTLOOK ON CARMEL

Mozart to share spotlight at Carmel Bach Festival July 19—28

Mozart will share the spotlight with Johann Sebastian Bach in the opening program of the thirty-first Carmel Bach Festival, July 19-28.

Sandor Salgo, musical director of the Carmel Bach Festival for 13 seasons, has scheduled one of Mozart's great choral works, the C minor Mass K 427, which was first done at Carmel four years ago.

On the same program at Sunset Auditorium will be Bach's Cantata No. 69 "Lobe den Herrn, meine seele" (Praise to the Lord) and Bach's Concerto for Two Violins

Mary Esther Nicola, soprano soloist has been a Bach Festival soloist and member of the Festival Chorale since 1960. Margery Tede, returning to the Festival Chorale for the third consecutive season, will be the mezzo soprano soloist. Tenor Melvin Brown first sung at Carmel two years ago. John West will be making a Festival debut as bass.

The D Minor Concerto for Two Violins, perhaps the most celebrated concerto for two violins ever written, is being done for the first time in 12 years at the Carmel Festival.

The distinguished violinists in the solo roles will be David Abel, returning to Carmel, for the third season, and Kenneth Goldsmith, concertmaster of the Festival since 1967.

Soloists for the Mozart, which will be done with the Festival orchestra, chorale and chorus, will be Delcina Stevenson, of the Western Opera Theatre, who is appearing at the Carmel Bach Festival for the second season; Mildred Owen, soprano; Mr. Brown and Mr. West.

Other programs during the ten-day Festival will feature an orchestral version of Bach's "Art of the Fugue;" the complete Mass in B Minor; a world premiere of "Le Carnaval des Precieuses," a concert of French music of 1660; and a program of Baroque Music

SOPRANO MRS. RICHARD BIRD is greeted by Bach Festival Director-Conductor Sandor Salgo, rehearsal director Kenneth Ahrens and Arthur Dahl, president of the Festival Board of Directors.

Business Assoc. to hear FBI man

Charles Bates, special agent in charge of the San Francisco FBI office, will speak on "A Slant Towards Business" at the summer dinner meeting of the Carmel Business Association at Highlands Inn this Thursday evening.

Social time will start at 6, with dinner at 7:30. Stan Ewig will report on an "alarm system" against bad checks and shop-lifting which the association is initiating.

The association is urging use in advertising and stationery of the full name, "Carmel-by-the-Sea", which has been accepted by the State Division of Highways for directional sign placing.

Slope density need cited

Need for slope density and site control to preserve the beauty of the coast is cited in a policy statement approved by the Carmel Highlands Association at a recent meeting.

Gordon W. Lundeen, who was re-elected president, said that the association hopes it will be incorporated into the county's Highlands' master plan.

Others elected include: Paul F. Gerstenberger, vice president; Mrs. Les Johnson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Robert J. Ramsey, recording secretary, and Rogers P. Parratt, treasurer. Mrs. John H. Gamble was elected to the executive board.

The group also voted opposition to geophysical exploration offshore of Monterey County.

Artist Richard Hamilton to give exhibit, demonstration Sunday

Artist Richard Hamilton, a loser who has become a winner, will present an art exhibit and painting demonstration at Holman's Guest Ranch just above Carmel Valley Village this Sunday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

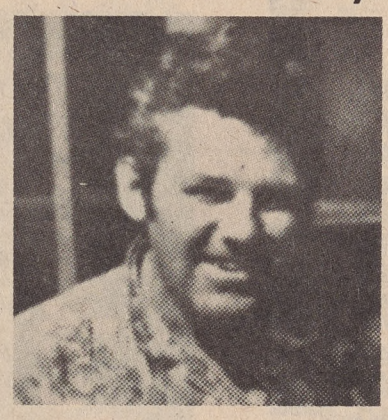
Hamilton recently moved to the Valley from Palm Springs where he had a studio, although he has lived on the Monterey Peninsula before.

A former wino who spent time in 36 different California jails, he was resurrected from near death with the help of Alcoholics Anonymous and a chance meeting with a top cartoonist which revived a latent interest in art.

Hamilton's paintings now hang in the collections of Mrs. Bob Hope, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Mrs. Lyndon Johnson.

Hamilton summed up: "I often think of the thousands of people who are in prisons today who could be living constructive lives if given help.

"But they have to want to more than anything else. I am now living a completely different life than I have ever known before."



AN ART EXHIBIT and demonstration will be presented by artist Richart Hamilton this Sunday from 11 a. m. to 4 p.m. at the Holman Guest–Ranch, Carmel Valley.

Film premiere, reception to benefit school

The world premiere of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" will be held in Carmel at the Golden Bough Theatre on Tuesday, June 25, at 8:30. Filmed in England by the Royal Shakespeare players and produced by Marty Ransahoff, the presentation will be a benefit for the Montessori School Building Fund.

The showing will be followed by a champagne reception with music and dancing. Tickets are $15 each or $25 a couple. Reservations may be obtained by calling Mrs. Augusta Lowe at 372-7236. The donation is tax-deductible.

The Montessori School, located on land leased from the Carmelite Monastery, plans to erect a new building adjacent to the existing structure. Presently pre-school and first grade children are accomodated. The addition will provide enough room for two more grades.

Plans have been drawn up and donated by architect John Cocker. Construction will begin as soon as sufficient funds are available.

Young artist feted at tea in Seaside

A tea to introduce an exhibit of paintings by Michele Garrard, a 14-year-old student of Carmel artist Catherine Aurner, was held at the Monterey Peninsula Area Service Center in Seaside.

The event featured dancing by students of Mrs. Ruth Ford from Toddler's House in Seaside and dances by a group of older children tutored by Mrs. Ford at the Center.

Hostesses were members of a modeling class conducted at the Center by Mrs. Constance Griggs.

Mrs. Mabel Caver had been appointed chairman of the tea by Mr. Joseph McCleod, director of the Center which is located at 1580 Del Monte Blvd. in the building formerly occupied by the Seaside City Hall.

Carole-Ann Hughes gets scholarship for theatre study

Carol-Ann Hughes of Salinas has been awarded a $135 scholarship to participate in two performances of the Studio Theatre in Carmel this summer.

Miss Hughes is a Hartnell College student majoring in the Theatre Arts and minoring in the dance. She received her award through the Boronda Memorial Scholarship Fund which was established to provide avenues of cultural enrichment away from the college campus.

The Studio's "Boy Friend" to feature familiar faces

Familiar faces along with talented newcomers will be seen in "The Boy Friend" which inaugurates the 11th summer musical season on Friday at the Studio Theatre-Restaurant in Carmel.

Eliane Yates (Polly) was Philia, the heroine of "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" in its first Studio run 18 months ago. She had previously done Maria in "The Sound of Music" and Kim in "Bye Bye Birdie".

Beau Stark (Tony) a founding director of the Presidio Players directed and starred in the recent all-Russian shows, in summer stock musicals, in the famed Barter Theatre and in four Circle Theatre productions.

Choreographer James Sweeney (Bobby Van Husen) draws on eight years study under Dale Lefler and prior experience in "Gypsy", "Bye Bye Birdie," "Once Upon a Mattress" and "The Fantasticks". His Charleston partner Carol-Ann Hughes (Maisie) was in last summer's offering of "The Boy Friend" in Salinas.

Vee Mariano (Mme. Dubonnet) has participated in Little Theatre at Army posts throughout the world where her husband has been stationed.

Milton Hayes (Percival Browne) played in both runs of "A Funny Thing" at the Studio and in "Send Me No Flowers". He was also in the Fort Ord production of "Once Upon a Mattress".

Retired Commander J. C. Hale (Lord Brockhurst), whose name is practically synonymous with the Little Theatre of the Naval Post-graduate School, has appeared there in "Thurber Carnival", "Fiorello", "South Pacific" and "A Man for All Seasons". Charlotte Minor (Lady Brockhurst) is as Minor (Lady Brockhurst) is associated with the Presidio Players for whom she has played in "You Can't take it with You".

Bettie DeWitt (Hortense) has been seen previously at the Studio in "Oh! Kay", "Bye Bye Birdie" and last summer's "Little Mary Sunshine". Luann Brown (Fay), Janie Tucker (Dulcie) and Vickye Welch (Nancy) are young ladies at Mme. Dubonnet's finishing school. Among other stage accomplishments, Miss Brown has appeared in the second Studio run of "A Funny Thing" last summer, Miss Tucker in "J. B." and "The Seven Year Itch" and Miss Welch in "The Music Man".

Roger Parkes (Alphonse) was in "Little Mary Sunshine" and "Never Too Late", both at the Studio, Tim Harper (Pierre) has been in "West Side Story" "Once Upon a Mattress" and "The Roar of the Greasepaint", and William Mulholland (Marcel) is a former professional dancer.

"The Boy Friend" under the direction of Don Osborn will play Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights this weekend, followed by "Carnival" next weekend. "The Boy Friend" resumes the weekend of July 5 and thereafter runs night except Monday in alternaae weeks with "Carnival" until Labor Day. Reservations may be made at 624-1661 and 624-2321.

San Jose State senior

Bob Holmes is a rising young pitcher

By GEORGE JENNINGS

Where are all those Major League baseball scouts hiding?

Carmel Valley has a pitching prospect available, and you don't have to be a baseball scout to know that the name of the game is pitching, from Oakland to Montreal.

Bob Holmes, former sports editor of the Carmel Valley Outlook and now a senior at San Jose State, has just completed an impressive season with the Spartans baseball squad. Bob won five games, lost only one and had the distinction of twice beating the Santa Clara Broncos, conference winners with eleven wins and just three losses.

Allowing barely two runs per game, Holmes struck out 60, walked 22, gave up 39 hits in a total of 53-2/3 innings. San Jose State's conference games reflected 10 wins and nine losses, so Holmes won half of those games even though he missed about four starts because of a bad wrist.

In a 9-2 victory over St. Mary's, Holmes struck out 15 batters. Among his wins was a two-hit game – local fans may recall that it was not too long ago when Bob Holmes made the headlines at Carmel High School by pitching a no-hitter against Pacific Grove High School. This year his wins over Santa Clara, a team ranked in the top ten of the nation's college squads, were four and six hitters by scores of 4-1 and 4-2. In the season finale he beat Pepperdine College.

Bob Holmes arrived at San Jose State following graduation from MPC. In March of 1965 he and Don Quinones combined in what was believed to be the first no-hitter tossed by an MPC hurler – a non-league tilt against Moffett Field.

Bob's father, Dr. John Homes works for California Test Bureau. Bob's mother, Evelyn, teaches at Tularcitos School. Long-time residents of Carmel Valley, the Holmes family lives on Rancho Fiesta Road.

Major League expansion demands talented young pitchers and Bob Holmes has proven he is ready to make his bid. Bring on the scouts!

UNDER THE OAKS & AMONG THE CACTI

By Mildred Hattan

BON VOYAGE

Carmel Valley's favorite Swiss Miss, Mrs. Luther Washington, is having so much fun at the Bon Voyage parties given in her honor that her many friends are hoping that they have been able to persuade her that "HERE" is where all of the action is, and to leave means only that she will be missing the fun of the summer season.

Paula with children, Elaine and Kevin, is flying to Switzerland to spend the summer months with her mother and sisters, leaving husband, Luther, and the family dog in charge of their quarters on Ford Road.

Mrs. Patricia DeAmaral was hostess at a Bon Voyage Bridge Luncheon at her home on Sage Road. Guests were served at a prettily appointed table with a floral arrangement centering an orange and green cloth.

The piece de resistance was dessert ... flowerpots filled with ice cream, strawberries, and topped with flowers, making a charming picture which will long be remembered by Paula, and Mmes. Dale Buche, Don Draper, Jack Black, Hap Thystrup, Rex Pryer, Richard McKenzie and William Gibson.

When unique parties are planned in Carmel Valley, you may be sure that they originated with Will Fay who invited Paula and Luther to the restaurant on Monday for the cocktail hour. After toasting Paula's flight, being presented with yellow sweatshirts with "Will's Fargo" on the back, and flower bedecked straw hats, the Washingtons and their friends attempted to leave only to find the front door locked.

Led by their host out the back entrance they boarded a waiting chartered bus and were taken to the "Boots and Saddle" restaurant.

Among those making the expedition were Lee and Johnny Anderson, Barbara and Raz Belleci, Mary and Hap Thystrup, Alla More, Virginia Adadow, Clifford Washington, James Lyles, and Mandy Webb (who recently returned from Puerta Vallarta).

LITTLE LEAGUE HELPERS

"An old oak leaf cluster" to Roger Sherman who presented a "Cleanup Casey Field Committee" preparing for the 4th of July Little League Barbecue, and to his hard working crew made up of the Sherman children, Lin Egli, Bob Moore, George Palmer, George Maddox, Sal Ocampo, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Craig and children, Larry Busick, Al Giordano, John Mark, and Garry Moore.

Rember tickets are available from any member of a ball team. Donations are $2.50 for adults, $1.25 for children.

FIELD TRIP

First graders from All Saints' Day School enjoyed an end of the year field trip last week which was a climax to their study of farms and ranches.

Accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. Beverly Kingsley and Mrs. Ronald Nicholson, the children were taken to the James Poultry Farm on West Carmel Valley Road where they had an opportunity to compare a real life operation with the model farm constructed in the classroom during their study of poultry.

Mrs. Nicholson purchased and hard-boiled an egg for each of the youngsters' lunches the following week. They all agreed that it was the best they had ever eaten since they had met most of the hens personally!

After a sack lunch at the poultry farm they went next door to the ranch of Dr. and Mrs. Clinton J. Zobel where they were shown black Angus cattle, ducklings, and chicks.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent at the Dennis the Menace Park in Monterey.

COMPANY

Mrs. Dorothy Quackenbush had as her house guest last week her sister, Mrs. Katherine Peck of Mesa, Calif.

HOUSE GUESTS

Dr. and Mrs. Glen Seal of Springville, Utah, have been guests of Dr. Seal's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Black of Panetta Road. Accompanying their parents for a week in the Valley were their daughter, Gaye and their son, Robert.

Also visiting the Blacks was their nephew Rusty Hibbert who is stationed at the US Naval Hospital in Oakland.

THE BEATLES

Records were broken last week for the Valley's ability (second only to the French Underground during World War II) to spread the word (preferably scandalous) from Highway 1 to Miller's Resort on the Arroyo Seco when it was reported that Ringo Starr and George Harrison were the dinner escorts of Joan Baez at the Plaza Linda. Time was of the essence as teenage town criers ran through the Village calling "The Beatles are here, the Beatles are here!"

Residents without teenagers reached for their insect aerosol spray cans while parents who did were as wide eyed as their bewildered offsprings, that the mountain had indeed come to Mohamad!

Ringo garbed in a white mod suit and George, in an equally mod black, next led their contingent of fans to the expresso shop (which along with the Plaza Linda 'tis rumored is in line for a plaque befitting a spot so honored by representatives of the famous rock group!)

POT POURRI

One could not help but applaud the aplomb and courtesy with which Helen and Maury Nessel, Mary Laird, and Leta Armstrong received the June requests for Valentines from the large group of young adults who swept through the Valley last week on a mechanized scavenger hunt. The parking lot next to Irene Baldwin's office was the clue check-point... Intrigued can only describe the staff at the Village Library who received a telephoned request for information about the gem, amber, from a lady who was standing by at a pay phone booth with a 624 prefix...

LONG BIRTHDAY

When you have been in the Valley for as long as Mrs. Mabel Love and have as many friends as she has you just can't expect to celebrate your birthday all at one time... in fact, if you are as lucky as she, it can be prolonged for days!

MORE OAKS & CACTI

The day following the surprise from the CV Community Chapel Choir, Mrs. Love was the guest of Mrs. Tim Conden at the Beach Club at Pebble Beach where as a delightful surprise, her daughter, Mrs. Jean Friddle and her son, Mark, joined them for a birthday luncheon.

The following Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Friddle and sons, Mike and Mark, arrived at her Lower Circle home with a completely prepared birthday dinner AND a birthday cake (one of four which she received!)

At the Fidelity Club chicken dinner, Louella Ollason took Mrs. Love's order for dessert and returned with lemon meringue pie topped with a lighted candle. Happy Birthday!

VISITOR

"A Terribly Seductive Little House"
And I hate to give it up!" — that's what the owner said about this delightful little post adobe on a knoll overlooking all the beautiful things of Carmel Valley. This is a small-scale adobe, and we are looking for a couple or a single person who may have almost given up finding a true ranch house in a petite size. Fabulous master bedroom (because of the views) and luxurious bath, den or guest bedroom and bath, living-dining combination, top-knotch kitchen, service room, AND a huge studio. Present owner is a painter, and it was planned for ideal working conditions for an artist. Hot and cold water, skylights, and sliding doors open to the sweeping views. On a full acre knoll just above the valley floor, and priced at $55,000. Assume a loan of just under $33,000. (First time ever on the market.)

The Carmel High School newspaper, "The Sandpiper," is only three years old, but it has won the top All American rating in national competition each year. The Sandpiper came into existence when English and journalism instructor Wally LeValley joined the CHS faculty.

This fall, LeValley will turn the adviser job over to John Savage, a new teacher, currently at Santa Cruz.

The paper is published every two weeks and has grown from a circulation of 1,000 to 2,700.

Journalism is a full year course which may be repeated. It is open to 2nd, 3rd and 4th year students with a B or better in English.

The first month or so is devoted to lectures on fundamentals of journalism, function of the press, format of different types of stories, etc. The balance of the course is production, applying the fundamentals, and actually putting out the paper.

LeValley feels the students gain first hand knowledge of the community and in return keep local residents well informed, since news coverage is not devoted strictly to campus activities, but also local issues which relate to the students or school.

The staff is made of a wide variety of individuals, including student body presidents, song leaders, honor roll members, and representing both conservative and liberal opinion, to give a well-rounded viewpoint of the Carmel High School picture.

"IT'S SPELLED WITH AN -er, not an -or," explains advisor, excuse me..., adviser Wally LeValley, to editor Chris Olsen (left). Hodge Podge House offers tea and dining among antique bric-a-brac

HODGE PODGE HOUSE, a new Carmel Valley tea room, is so called because it is a "hodge podge" of antique tables and chairs in a quaint interior, according to owners Mrs. Renee Halloway and Mrs. Ruth Kummerow.

The tea room is located in the Village, on the lower level in the Guiseppe Workshop Building. Access by foot is down the steps and there is also a driveway and ample parking from Village Drive.

Mrs. Halloway, who moved here from Carmel last October, had a tea room in Laguna Beach before moving to the Peninsula.

Mrs. Kummerow has been a Valley resident for two years.

The tea room overlooks the meadow and hills. In addition to the main room with its fireplace and beamed ceiling, there is also a patio for outdoor dining.

Hodge Podge House features a different soup each day with sandwiches and special salads such as the combination trio (chef, tuna and fruit salad) and a shrimp royale.

Cream cheese pie, tarts, cakes and apple crunch pie are on the dessert menu. There is also a hot dish special each day.

The tea room is open from 11:30 to 4, Monday through Friday. Luncheon groups are welcome and special parties can be accommodated by appointment.

Sierra Club to see Ziegler flower-slides

Beautiful color slides of local wildflowers, taken by Carmel Valley photographer Jim Ziegler will be shown at the final meeting of the Conservation Committee of the Sierra Club's Ventana chapter Thursday, June 27 at 7:30 p. m. at Carmel High's Brey Hall.

Another Valley resident, Doyt Early, will join Ziegler in narrating the slide-showing. The public is invited.

Following the program, discussion of pressing local conservation problems will be held.

Language aide sought
